

Title: Technical Sales Representative
Company: ChromaDex, Inc.™
Type: Regular Full-time
Department: Sales
Status: Exempt
Location: Irvine, California
Working Hours: May vary depending on sales territory
Salary Range: Varies with experience
Starting date: Immediately

ABOUT US:

ChromaDex™ is a world leading company in the research, manufacture and supply of chemical, phytochemical reference standards, and contract services to the pharmaceutical, food and beverage, dietary supplement, and cosmetic markets. ChromaDex™ is a natural products scientific support company devoted to providing advanced technological solutions. Our combination of unique products and services, as well as our sales and marketing strategy have made us #1 in our business. To learn more about ChromaDex™, visit our web site at www.chromadex.com

POSITION:

ChromaDex™ is looking for several inside technical sales representative who will be responsible for both USA, Canada and International territories. Responsibilities for this position include contacting ChromaDex™ customers in the various territories by phone, e-mail or other means to increase business in these territories. Provide ongoing technical support for our products and services. This person will also be required to meet the sales goals established for this territory. This person will also be required to work as part of the ChromaDex™ sales team. Some domestic and potentially international travel opportunities may be required.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Minimum BS/BA in Chemistry/Biochemistry or biology, with some background in analytical chemistry(HPLC and/or GC). Background in natural products chemistry is a plus. Demonstrated capability to manage multiple projects and work in a team environment. Exceptional oral and written communication skills are essential